

19 SOLDIERS ARE STRICKEN BY LIGHTNING MUST DO BATTLE TO SAVE ERMINE

Electric Bolt Descends on Mess Tent of Birmingham Company at Camp Pettus.

TWO MEN KILLED OUTRIGHT AND 17 SERIOUSLY INJURED

Men Were in Act of Signing Their Pay Slips When the Bolt Descended—All Metal About the Structure Was Destroyed—One of Injured Not Expected to Live.

Anniston, Ala., July 11.—Charles Kirby and H. Raper are dead and seventeen others are seriously injured as a result of being struck by lightning in their mess tent of Company B, Second Alabama Infantry, commanded by Captain C. H. Seals, of Birmingham, this evening about 8 o'clock. The injured are: Carl O. Jackson, E. V. Lockhart, Herbert Moore, H. I. Leonard, James Jameson, F. Jefferson, W. T. Evans, Leopold Speigler, Samuel Walters, R. R. Parsons, Earl Holcombe, Travis Downing, J. R. Robinson and two negro cooks.

M. C. Sullivan, also injured, is not expected to live. The men were rushed to hospitals immediately after the catastrophe occurred and were placed under treatment of the surgeons of the regular army.

They suffered agonies and the scenes were most pitiable. All are from the Birmingham district.

Pandemonium reigned in camp for several hours after the bolt struck. The mess hall was not demolished, although nearly all metal about the structure was melted, including several metal cups.

A metal artillery flag pole, against which one of the members of the camp was leaning, was melted without injuring the militiaman. A peculiar incident is reported of one of the men injured in that the print of his hand was left on his leg where the lightning shock was felt.

Although the ambulance corps reported within two minutes after the bolt had struck, it was several hours before all the men were identified. In this work Captain Seals and Adjutant General Scully and Colonel Bricker rendered valuable service, even members of the company being unable to recognize their mates. The men were just in the act of signing their pay slips when the fatal stroke came.

ATLANTA RATE CASE MAKES LITTLE PROGRESS

Duluth, July 11.—The hearing in the rate case in which Atlanta, Ga., seeks to obtain a readjustment of rates from eastern points, dragged along today. The testimony of Nashville merchants was considered last yesterday, and C. R. Compton, freight traffic manager of the Louisville and Nashville, took the stand. He gave a history of the rate structure of the southwest as it affected Atlanta. He pointed out that several reductions were made in the rates from eastern shipping points to Atlanta in recent years, and the readjustment thus effected was to Atlanta's benefit.

The railroads have not disclosed the probable volume of their testimony, and no intimation could be given today as to when the hearing would be concluded.

COOK AND JOYNER NAMED BY TEACHERS

Chicago, July 11.—George B. Cook, state superintendent of public instruction of Arkansas, and James J. Joyner, of Raleigh, N. C., a trustee, and delegates showed their preference for Salt Lake City for the 1913 convention at the gathering of the National Education Association here today. This practically concluded the work of the fiftieth annual session of the organization. The selection of Salt Lake City has yet to be ratified by the executive committee.

Two general sessions of the convention tomorrow are to be devoted to educational subjects, with adjournment to follow in the evening.

Baroness Bertha von Suttner, Vienna, in an address on the movement for international peace, today praised President Taft, saying his work was influencing peace promoters in Europe to speak against the enlargement of armies and navies.

Tonight David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford, Jr., university, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley were the chief speakers on health in relation to public schools.

JUDGE ARCHBALD MUST DO BATTLE TO SAVE ERMINE

By a Vote of 222 to 1 the House Adopts the Articles of Impeachment.

LIFELONG FRIEND CAST SINGLE VOTE FOR JUDGE

And Only Three Members Spoke in His Defense—During Debate Opponents of Archbald Alleged He Was Overcome by the Desire to Accumulate Wealth.

Washington, July 11.—The house of representatives today adopted by a vote of 222 to 1 articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the United States commerce court. Representative Farr, of Pennsylvania, cast the single vote against the bill of impeachment.

Mr. Farr is a lifelong friend who has all along voiced confidence in Judge Archbald's integrity.

Of the total membership of the house in their seats only nine voted "present." These were former Speaker Cannon, Representatives Burgess, of Texas, Dabell and Olmstead of Pennsylvania, Dwight of New York, Johnson of South Carolina, Parran of Maryland, Rucker of Missouri and Sparkman of Florida.

Only three members had spoken in the judge's defense. They were Representatives Farr, Bowman and Focht, all republicans of Pennsylvania.

Scene Shifts to Senate.

The scene now shifts to the senate, which will sit in judgment in the case. While there has been a disposition voiced in the senate to postpone the trial until the autumn, Chairman Clayton, of the house judiciary committee and one of the prosecuting managers, declared today his conviction that the senate would take up the impeachment soon.

Senator Clark of Wyoming (republican), chairman of the senate judiciary committee, and Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, expressed the view tonight that the senate would acquit.

FELDER TO TELL ABOUT BLEASE

Will Testify in Graft Case at Augusta Today.

Augusta, Ga., July 11.—The South Carolina legislative investigating committee, composed of members of the house and senate, will meet in the city courtroom here at noon tomorrow to take the testimony of Thomas B. Felder, attorney, of Atlanta, because Felder declines to go into South Carolina and subject himself to execution of a warrant issued by Governor Blease for Felder's arrest.

Felder was the principal lawyer in prosecution of the old South Carolina dispensary graft, in which several hundred thousand dollars were recovered. He has publicly declared he will, in his testimony, reveal the connection of Cole Blease as a lawyer and as state senator with whisky houses.

While the Charleston debate was in progress when numerous stories were told of monthly payments of "protection money," it became known that blind tigers would not give evidence on that date, because they were "out of the city." Now, it is understood, attention is about to turn in that direction.

The investigating committee is composed of Senators H. B. Carlisle, of Spartanburg, chairman; J. H. Clifton, of Sumter; G. W. Sullivan, of Anderson; and Representatives J. J. Evans, of Marlboro, secretary; W. L. Daniel, of Saluda, and F. M. Gay, of Oconee.

Great Interest Taken.

Mr. Felder's testimony is being awaited with much interest in South Carolina. His letters to the press last year on Governor Blease and the "wordy" interchanges of back-handed compliments between him and Governor Blease have kept their names in the limelight, and South Carolinians are curious to see just what Mr. Felder's testimony really is. His charges against the governor were sensational.

COL. ROBT. J. LOWRY, WHO PRESENTED MEMORIAL, WILL LEAD FIGHT AGAINST THE REMOVAL OF ERSKINE FOUNT

These pictures are reproductions of photographs taken of the Erskine memorial fountain and those who took part in its unveiling May 1, 1896.

The top picture shows J. Massey Rhind, the sculptor of the fountain, standing at the extreme left. Seated near him are Mrs. Porter King, whose husband was then mayor of Atlanta, and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry. Opposite them are Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, of Atlanta, and the late Mrs. Willard Ward, of New York, who was the only daughter of Judge Erskine and who gave the fountain to Atlanta.

In the smaller picture is shown Colonel Robert J. Lowry, who presented the fountain to the city on behalf of Mrs. Ward, and on the right is Mayor Porter King, who delivered the official speech of acceptance.

Pending the final disposition of the Erskine memorial fountain at the junction of Peachtree and West Peachtree streets, Colonel Robert J. Lowry and others who were warm personal friends of Judge Erskine, in whose memory the fountain was erected, will fight to a finish any suggestion to remove the monument.

When the lowering of the grade of Peachtree street at Baker is finished the fountain will be about four feet above the street. While there are suggestions either to lower the fountain to the street level or to build steps from the street to the fountain, there have also been requests that the fountain be permanently removed on the ground that it has not been kept in clean and is therefore an eyesore and not an ornament. It is this last suggested course that has aroused the admirers of the famous jurist. They have declared that under no condition will they allow the fountain to be moved.

Colonel Lowry was one of Judge Erskine's most intimate friends during his life and it was he who presented the fountain to the city on behalf of Judge Erskine's daughter, Mrs. Willard P. Ward, who erected the monument. The memorial was unveiled May 1, 1896, and was received on behalf of the city by Porter King, who was at that time mayor of Atlanta. The sculptor of the beautiful piece of work was J. Massey Rhind, who was also present at the unveiling.

There are in Atlanta today hundreds of people who saw the unveiling of the Erskine monument and numbers of the judge's personal friends who, while they may not take an active part in the matter, would be deeply grieved to see its removal.

"Aside from my personal interest in the matter through the bonds of friendship which held me to Judge Erskine," says Colonel Lowry, "I think that the city would be making a grave mistake in removing the memorial of a man who has done so much for the state and the south and has so endeared himself in the hearts of our people as has Judge Erskine. It is my unbiased opinion that in his office of federal judge, standing as he did between the federal government and the people of Georgia during the bitter days after the war, he did as much as any other one man to heal the wound between the north and the south by his just, but merciful administration of laws enacted under the influence of passion."

"MATERIAL LIEN" BILL IS PASSED

Report of Committee Is Disregarded by House.

The charge that organized interests in Georgia had resorted to subterfuge and deception to defeat the "Material Lien" bill, stirred the house of representatives of the Georgia assembly, during the time Representative W. H. Burwell, of Hancock, appealed from the floor to pass the bill over the adverse report of the committee.

"The members of this house have been swamped with letters urging them to vote against this bill," Mr. Burwell declared. "The letters designate the bill by number, thereby deluding some of the members of this house. Those members who have made up their minds to vote against this bill have been deceived, but I intend to let them know who the real authors of the letters were."

The name of an Atlanta organization was mentioned by Representative Burwell as being opposed to the bill which proposes a change in the present law by taking away the right of furnishers of building material to enter a lien against buildings for debt of the contractor. The bill was reported back by the committee adversely, and was taken up Thursday morning under unanimous consent, and after a long debate the house disagreed to the committee report, and passed the bill by a vote of 107 to 58.

The debate on the bill prevented the house taking up the "county attorney" bill, made the special order. It was 1 o'clock when Representative Burwell's bill was disposed of.

The "county attorney" bill was introduced by Representatives Allen, of Upson, and Fullbright, of Burke. It proposes an amendment to abolish the office of solicitor general in counties, and creating the office of county attorney.

The bill will be the first matter before the legislature when it convenes today.

PANAMA CANAL CAUSES CLASH WITH ENGLAND

British Government Declares Provision Regarding Tolls Violates Hay-Pauncefote Treaty.

Washington, July 11.—The lines were drawn tonight for a great diplomatic struggle between the United States and Great Britain over the question of whether this country may discriminate in favor of American vessels in the administration of the Panama canal. The words may terminate in the submission of the question to The Hague tribunal.

A series of diplomatic and legislative conferences today developed the fact that the forces in the American government which favor allowing American ships free passage through the canal are in control. These forces take the position that there is "nothing in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, under which the canal was built, to prevent this concession."

Lines of the Fight.

The diplomatic struggle, precipitated by the note received today from Mitchell Jones, charge of the British embassy, is expected, will be fought along the following lines:

Great Britain will take the position that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty provision, which forbids discrimination in favor of the interests of any nation in the conduct of the canal, would operate against the provisions of the Panama bill now under consideration in the senate. This position will be supported by a lengthy argument now on its way from London by mail, which will be presented to the state department and transmitted to congress immediately upon its arrival.

The United States will hold that so long as the ships of all foreign nations are accorded the same treatment in the use of the canal the United States may pass American ships free, or rebate the tolls charged by the house when it reversed the report of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee, which would have prevented free passage to American ships, and passed the present bill.

The ultimate passage of the measure now before the senate seems assured. The men behind the bill in the senate said today that the British note would

PETTIGREW BOLTS TO ROOSEVELT

Former Senator One of the Clark Leaders at Baltimore.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 11.—Within less than a fortnight Colonel Roosevelt will begin the campaign trips which are to carry him into almost every state of the union before the November election. Although he has not reached a final decision, he expects to leave Oyster Bay week after next. Kansas, Iowa and Michigan are tentatively on the program. He may also attend the Chicago convention of the new progressive party.

Colonel Roosevelt today indicated that during the campaign he expects to speak to more persons than almost any other candidate in the history of the country. He says he will campaign in the south as vigorously as in the north. It is largely through this personal appeal that Colonel Roosevelt hopes to carry the day.

"This is a crusader's fight," he said today. "I have told men who offered to go with us that they should not do so unless the fire was burned into their souls."

The former president said today that Frank Pettigrew, former United States senator from South Dakota, and a democrat, had come out for him. Ex-Senator Pettigrew came to Oyster Bay today, to enlist under the Roosevelt battle flag. Mr. Pettigrew was a prominent figure at the Baltimore convention, and was described at the time as one of the leaders of Champ Clark forces.

"Mr. Pettigrew said he profoundly disapproved of Woodrow Wilson's nomination," said Colonel Roosevelt, "and that he believed half the democrats of South Dakota would vote for me. He said he regarded Governor Wilson as a reactionary, and that the democratic platform meant nothing."

Ex-Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, also called on Colonel Roosevelt. "He came here to announce," said the colonel, "that they would hold republican primaries for presidential electors in North Carolina and that he believed they were going to carry them for me five or six to one. He said they were going to put the Roosevelt name on the republican ticket for electors and that there might be democrats also who would run for election as Roosevelt electors. That would be all the better. In other words, there will be a sort of union of the republican and democratic forces in some

IN BITTER STRA' LORIMER BEGINS HIS SWAN SONG

Realizing He Is Beaten Senator Denounces Chicago Newspapers and Roosevelt and Taft.

AFFIDAVITS OF GEORGIANS INTRODUCED BY LORIMER

To Prove That Bribery Was Attempted by the Roosevelt Trust—Lorimer Bitterly Attacks What He Terms the "Newspaper Trust" of Chicago.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 11.—(Special.)—Senator William Lorimer, of Illinois, began his swan song today as a senator of the United States. He apparently realized that he faced a court whose verdict tomorrow will be adverse to him, and his sole idea seemed to be to wreak some measure of revenge as he could upon his enemies.

He admitted that he might be turned out, but said the senators who so voted did so entirely in response to public clamor, and that a majority of them had never heard the evidence or read the record in the case in which they were sitting as judges. He asserted this several times, and quoted extracts from senators who opposed him to prove it.

Roosevelt Assailed.

He assailed Theodore Roosevelt, and introduced affidavits from the three Georgia delegates to the Chicago convention who testified to bribery attempts on part of Mr. Roosevelt's friends and backers, and then sneeringly referred to the ex-president's hostility to bosses and corruption in politics.

He charged The Chicago News, Tribune and Record-Herald with being tax dodgers, who were defrauding the school fund out of hundreds of thousands of dollars in ground rentals and taxes on property they used in their business, and which belonged to the school children of Chicago.

The beginning of the movement to drive him out of public life, said Senator Lorimer, dates back twenty years to the time when Victor F. Lawson came to Washington and delivered the vote of Illinois to Benjamin Harrison for the presidential nomination. At the national convention Lorimer worked for James G. Blaine. A messenger from Mr. Lawson brought him this word: "Vote for Blaine if you choose, but unless you stop working for him I will drive you out of public life."

The fight then begun has been kept up to this day, he said, by what he called the newspaper trust of Chicago.

The Georgia Affidavits.

The three affidavits of Georgians which Mr. Lorimer inserted in the congressional record were from R. A. Holland, of Harris county; William James, of Statesboro, Ga., and R. B. Butts, of Meriwether county.

Holland made his affidavit before J. A. Fouché, on June 27. He says that while in Chicago, on June 21, serving as a delegate to the national convention, he was approached by Dr. L. Brinson, of Chicago, and taken to the headquarters of Colonel Roosevelt, where he met Senator Dixon, Mr. McHarg and Mr. Kincaid. Senator Dixon left the room, and McHarg introduced Kincaid as a millionaire. The latter said, "We are here to represent Mr. Roosevelt, and are ready to do business."

Savannah, Ga., July 11.—(Special).—Charles Williams, a colored convict serving time in prison in Macon, and working on the Chattahoochee roads, was killed by lightning this afternoon. R. A. Dye, the convict guard, was stunned and five convicts made their escape. Dogs were put on their trail, and, double-shackled as they are, it is expected that they will be caught before the night is over by the hands of armed and mounted men who are securing the woods.

Just before the flash that killed Williams, Dye and his convicts were under a tree which was struck, stunning one of the negroes. They moved out into an open field, where they were huddled together when the lightning struck.

When Dye lay stunned the five convicts made their escape, two remaining with him and one of them bringing him his gun, which had been knocked several feet away.

The Tippecanoe bill makes dry summer reading.

July seems determined to wade out of the weather.

Even an Oyster Bay knife couldn't cut the thick slice of Beverly.

The Washington weather is a warmer proposition than congress.

It remained for Seagirt to wash the red letters of Oyster Bay from the map.

Lorimer isn't willing to go with a whitewashed robe; he prefers the toga.

The bull moose man lacks the optimism of his sometime friend, "Bill" Taft.

At this stage of the game Taft is knocking the golf balls—not the trusts.

Anyway, bathing suits don't come higher this season—we mean in price.

It's hot enough for that Mexican revolution to adjourn to a summer resort.

The Colonel, accompanied by his new party, will spend his vacation far at sea.

Even a bull moose gets in bad trying to butt a steam-roller from the roadway.

The third-term party makes a bluff at "saving the country" because it needs it in its business.

Congress owes it to the country and the editor of the Congressional Record to give both a rest.

The bull moose is a great temptation to political hunters to violate the game law and blaze away.

Taft's one crumb of consolation is that he has written no books they can hurl at him in the campaign.

The rain has drowned the mint beds, but those who are partial to the juleps are willing to wade in.

Realizing that the party needs all the votes it can get, Mr. Bryan has ceased to read them out of it.

"Keep busy in warm weather," says Doc Wiley. We do—every time we think of the high cost of living.

The aviators haven't time to wait for the "safety airship," lured upward by the gold dust of the stars.

The republican and Roosevelt parties are in such a rush to get No where they haven't time to talk tariff.

If at work there's a chance to keep cool, since you don't have to wonder how big your summer resort bill will be.

Mr. Rockefeller is only 73, and it will take him at least a dozen busy years longer to fence in the entire world.

Mr. Bryan's lemon farm in Texas is in a flourishing condition, but he has promised not to hand them around within party lines.

If they put that Buffalo design on the new nickel the captain of the bull moose brigade will convert it into a national compliment.

"No use wasting ammunition on Roosevelt," says the Florida Times-Union. But since he's on the hot firing line he must take his medicine.

IF IN EAST, WHY NOT SOUTH?

Combating the petition of the traveling men that mileage coupons should be "pulled" on trains in Georgia, in place of the prevailing archaic system, one of the objections raised by the representatives of the railroads was that—

"If conductors are authorized to pull mileage on trains there is no way of keeping up with the movements of a passenger; there is no system of checking the pulling of mileage by the conductor and no way of safeguarding the revenue of the road."

The argument happens to be shot to pieces by the procedure of the Pennsylvania railroad, the New York Central and a large number of the most important systems in the United States. The Pennsylvania, for instance—and it is only typical of the general eastern practice—issues a 1,000-mile book for $20. Coupons from that book are lifted on trains. The southern interchangeable mileage book is restricted to one individual. The Pennsylvania mileage book—and that of the other great systems—can be used not only by the bearer, but by any person or persons accompanying him. If the possessor of the book wants to travel ten miles, ten coupons are lifted. If accompanied by his wife on a ten-mile trip, twenty coupons are lifted. If four members of the family go together on a ten-mile trip, forty coupons are lifted—and so on. That is not all. It is not even necessary that the book be signed. When you buy a book in Georgia you must not only sign it, but as well have your approximate height, weight, your sex, the color of your eyes and various other means of identification punched on the cover of the book—a Bertillon system of selling transportation. When that process is concluded, you must exchange your coupons for a ticket at the window—and perhaps miss the train.

No one has ever accused the Pennsylvania or any of these other great eastern carriers of being mismanaged. On the other hand, they stand as models in auditing methods and in transportation safeguards for the entire world. It is also known that many of the financial interests identified with the Pennsylvania are likewise interested in southern roads.

On the side of honesty of conductors and ticket-takers there can be no complaint. Surely, it will not be charged that these employees on southern roads are less honest or competent than those on eastern roads!

The Pennsylvania, and the other model roads, adopt a liberal policy, not only as a matter of accommodation to their patrons, but as good business procedure. They know if they encourage the consumption of mileage books, the market for mileage books—and therefore profits—will increase.

Out of this situation the question then arises: If these methods are practicable in and good for the east, why are they not practicable in and good for the south?

Mileage coupons are going to be "pulled" on trains in Georgia! That development is, sooner or later, as inevitable as the sunrise. Why should not the railroads submit gracefully to the granting of a right that, in any event, is going to be forced on them? The duty of the railroad commission to approve the petition of the traveling men is a plain one. But it would be much better for all parties concerned should the railroads concede the principle of their own volition.

ATLANTA'S WEATHER DISCRIMINATION.

An interesting situation is indicated in two communications published elsewhere today, one from T. C. Ryal, of Atlanta, and the other from Local Forecaster and Section Director von Herrmann. Yesterday The Constitution published an analysis, based upon an interview with Mr. von Herrmann, of the phenomenal rainfall in Atlanta during the past six months. It quoted Mr. von Herrmann, backed up by the white flag flying from the crest of the local weather bureau, as predicting fair weather for Thursday. But in the column regularly given to official forecasts and on the same page, and in the same issue, appeared the government's forecast predicting local showers for Georgia for both Thursday and Friday. Therein was an obvious contradiction. Mr. Ryal wanted an explanation. Mr. von Herrmann, although scrupulously observing his established loyalty to his superior heads, has furnished it.

The Constitution can go farther than Mr. von Herrmann and criticize, as we have done before, an unjust discrimination clearly established by this contradiction. The forecasts for the Piedmont region, as shown by Mr. von Herrmann, are made up, not here, but in Washington, and must therefore lack radically in accuracy. This section is about the only one in the country suffering from the discrimination. It means much to commerce, not to say comfort. The forecasts for New England are made up in Boston. Those for the great lake region are made up in Chicago. New Orleans predicts for the gulf coast and the southwest. Denver forecasts for the Rocky mountains. San Francisco forecasts for California, and Portland for the North Pacific states. Each of these stations, being in close touch with local meteorological conditions, is in position to strike the mark. Washington, predicting for the Piedmont section, and being in only casual touch with it, plays a game of hit or miss.

The folly of the arrangement is shown by the fact that Mr. von Herrmann was much nearer right than Washington on Thursday's predictions. Being on the spot, he "beat Washington to it." Yesterday morning Washington followed Mr. von Herrmann's prophecy—twelve hours late.

The Piedmont section is every whit as important as the others with their own forecasting stations. Our congressmen should make it their business to have Atlanta, and not Washington, designated the forecasting center for the Piedmont section.

AN INSULT TO CIVIC DECENCY.

Because the Erskine memorial fountain, which stands at the junction of the two Peachtrees, is left about four feet above the new grade of the street, it is suggested that it be permanently discarded.

The fountain is a memorial to Judge John Erskine, a pioneer of Atlanta, and a man whose career was an inspiration to the noblest type of citizenship. His daughter, Mrs. Willard P. Ward, presented the memorial to the city at an expense of about $7,000. Who is at fault we do not undertake to say, but we do know that ever since its erection the fountain has been neglected in a manner that indicts the official and the public spirit of this community.

The same slovenly and inappreciative spirit has marked the attitude of the city toward the monument to Henry W. Grady. Commemorating a man who brought luster not only upon Atlanta, but as well upon the entire south and the nation, it has not once since its erection been cleaned or tended of the city's volition. Several months ago a representative of a foreign cleaning concern, visiting here temporarily, was so shamed by the statue's appearance that he made a formal offer to clean it free of charge—and it has not been touched since.

Ceremonies of the most solemn civic nature marked the unveiling and dedication of both these memorials. Photographs published elsewhere show the unveiling of the Erskine fountain, with Colonel Robert J. Lowry, now as then in the front rank of Atlanta's citizens, tendering the memorial, and Porter King, then mayor, accepting it in behalf of the municipality. And the municipality has shown its appreciation—how? By systematically neglecting to keep in a condition of ordinary decency both the Erskine memorial and the Grady monument.

And now, because a needed public improvement puts the Erskine memorial four feet above grade, the suggestion is made that it be dismantled rather than lower it to the new level of the street.

In the name of all the gods of reason and unreason, what incentive does such a slack and antediluvian municipal policy offer to other citizens minded similarly to beautify the city by memorials perpetuating the memory of their loved ones and the great or serviceable men of the city?

Certainly the Erskine fountain should not be, and will not be, dismantled! Such a course would be a direct affront to the noble man it commemorates, the noble daughter who gave it, to every man and woman inspired by the sacred instinct to publicly honor their great dead—and, more than all, would shame the city itself!

The Ambitious Fire.

High in the heavens you see the big Sun climb—
 Feelin' mighty certain he'll burn us 'fore our time!

Keeps a-climbin' higher—
 More'n you desire;
 Old world is a-wittin'
 'Neath his everlastin' fire!

Wish that you could go where loud the billiards blow—
 Find a coolin' harbor in the kingdom of the snow.

How can you admire
 That Sun, a-climbin' higher,
 When the old world is a-wittin'
 'Neath his everlastin' fire?

The Provident One.
 "Minute the old man heard that the Tippecanoe bill had passed the house," said the old lady, "he applied for a job as conductor on a jug train, runnin' 'twixt here an' Chattanooga. 'There's nothin' to it,' he says, 'like takin' time by the forelock, an' gittin' ready for dry weather, an' anyway,' he says, 'I'll not fare badly, being as I'm the guy that put the moonshine in the stills, the 'bead on Bourbon an' the Jew in the julep, an' I don't care how corn sells, so I get a bushel, occasionally.'"

To Meadowy Lands.
 I.
 Birds in the blossoms
 Sing your soul astray,
 Singin' of a feller
 To the meadow lands away,
 And he gives the rosy woodlands
 The tip-top of the day.

II.
 Life that seems a-flowin'
 Like a river sweet;
 Don't care where it's goin',
 Violets to meet!
 Lilies leaning to Love's breast
 And daisies at his feet.

Entertaining Citizen.
 A Billville man reports a good day's work in these words:
 "I kilt a rattlesnake that was charmin' a mockin'bird, an' then I kilted the bird an' sold it for $3."

The Picnic Prize.
 At a "literary picnic," recently, a prize of a gilt-edged copy of Tennyson was awarded to the champion high jumper. (Nothing like encouragement to these athletic literary chaps.)

Wet and Dry.
 So much rain
 On hill an' plain,
 All drowned out in Georgy!
 Rivers high
 As things you buy—
 All drowned out in Georgy!
 Country's farin' mighty ill
 When the wet days have their will;
 That's how come that Tippecanoe bill,
 Preachin' dry, fer Georgy!

Log Cabin Sayings.
 Ef some folks knowed dat de woi' wuz turnin' roun' dey'd spend a life-time makin' brakes ter stop it.
 Even when de big sun is shinin' some folks go 'roun' huntin' fer candles.

Mister Sun and Mister Rain.
 Hot Sun say he gwine ter blaze—
 Burn de woi' dese summer days.
 But Mister Rain, he give a shout
 An' say: "I'll put dat fire out!"
 An' here he come, a-splashin' down;
 He drench de steeples of de town;
 He drench de hills de sweatin' brow;
 Says Mister Rain: "Whar is you now?"

WEATHERMAN VON HERRMANN EXPLAINS CONFLICTING "DOPE"

In a thoroughgoing analysis of Atlanta's phenomenal rainfall for the past six months, published yesterday, The Constitution noted the prediction of Section Director von Herrmann that fair weather would rule on Thursday in Atlanta. But in the same issue in the first page column regularly given to forecasts appeared the following statements:

"Weather Prophecy—Local showers Thursday and probably Friday."

Here was a considerable conflict of expert opinion, and on the surface it seemed that Mr. von Herrmann, noted for his reliability, was contradicting himself. Others than The Constitution noted the discrepancy—Mr. Ryal, for instance, whose letter follows. His communication and the reply of Mr. von Herrmann clear up the situation and afford interesting ground for speculation to Atlanta's weather fanatics.

Mr. Ryal Wants to Know.

Editor Constitution: I read with keen interest the official observations on the weather in an interview with Mr. von Herrmann, the section director of the United States Weather Bureau, and I note that late yesterday afternoon he formally, emphatically and officially predicted fair weather for today, backing his action in throwing up the white flag at noon yesterday. Now, in the very next column to his interview in the official prediction appears the following:

"Georgia—Local showers Thursday and probably Friday."

Now I rise to a point of inquiry. How is it that the official forecast assures us in one column, staking his reputation upon it, that fair weather will rule on Thursday, and then in the very next column of the same issue of The Constitution appears an official forecast that we will have local showers both Thursday and Friday?

It seems to me that an official explanation is due the public on this apparent contradiction. What about it, T. C. RYAL.

Atlanta, Ga.

The Explanation.

Here is how Forecaster von Herrmann explains the discrepancy:

Editor Constitution: I have received your communication of the 11th instant forwarding a letter from Mr. T. C. Ryal, in which he points out the fact that the state forecast of the weather for Thursday was "local showers."

In the course of my dictation he said: "If the weather is bad let the hands split rails."

When the letter was ready for signature it read like this:

"If the weather is bad let the hens split rails."

GOSSIP OF THE CAPITOL CAUGHT IN CORRIDORS

Yancey Visits Folks.

Captain Goodie Yancey, secretary of the Georgia prison commission, left yesterday for Birmingham, where he will visit relatives. He will return to Atlanta Monday morning.

Work for the Chickens.

A certain well-known chicken who operates a big plantation and employs many laborers dropped into an office at the capitol not long since and requested the young lady stenographer to write a letter for him.

In the course of his dictation he said: "If the weather is bad let the hands split rails."

When the letter was ready for signature it read like this:

"If the weather is bad let the hens split rails."

HOUSES OF ATLANTA ARE VERY BADLY NUMBERED

As a sample of how badly some of the streets in Atlanta are numbered, E. C. Peters has furnished The Constitution with the numbering of houses on the east side of Josephine street, in Inman Park.

Mr. Peters states that the numbers run in the following order: 19, 21, 3, 11, 29, 15, 19, 45, 25, 31, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 49, 51, 53, 55, 57, 59, 61, 63, 65, 67, 69, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, 83, 85, 87, 89, 91, 93, 95, 97, 99, 101, 103, 105, 107, 109, 111, 113, 115, 117, 119, 121, 123, 125, 127, 129, 131, 133, 135, 137, 139, 141, 143, 145, 147, 149, 151, 153, 155, 157, 159, 161, 163, 165, 167, 169, 171, 173, 175, 177, 179, 181, 183, 185, 187, 189, 191, 193, 195, 197, 199, 201, 203, 205, 207, 209, 211, 213, 215, 217, 219, 221, 223, 225, 227, 229, 231, 233, 235, 237, 239, 241, 243, 245, 247, 249, 251, 253, 255, 257, 259, 261, 263, 265, 267, 269, 271, 273, 275, 277, 279, 281, 283, 285, 287, 289, 291, 293, 295, 297, 299, 301, 303, 305, 307, 309, 311, 313, 315, 317, 319, 321, 323, 325, 327, 329, 331, 333, 335, 337, 339, 341, 343, 345, 347, 349, 351, 353, 355, 357, 359, 361, 363, 365, 367, 369, 371, 373, 375, 377, 379, 381, 383, 385, 387, 389, 391, 393, 395, 397, 399, 401, 403, 405, 407, 409, 411, 413, 415, 417, 419, 421, 423, 425, 427, 429, 431, 433, 435, 437, 439, 441, 443, 445, 447, 449, 451, 453, 455, 457, 459, 461, 463, 465, 467, 469, 471, 473, 475, 477, 479, 481, 483, 485, 487, 489, 491, 493, 495, 497, 499, 501, 503, 505, 507, 509, 511, 513, 515, 517, 519, 521, 523, 525, 527, 529, 531, 533, 535, 537, 539, 541, 543, 545, 547, 549, 551, 553, 555, 557, 559, 561, 563, 565, 567, 569, 571, 573, 575, 577, 579, 581, 583, 585, 587, 589, 591, 593, 595, 597, 599, 601, 603, 605, 607, 609, 611, 613, 615, 617, 619, 621, 623, 625, 627, 629, 631, 633, 635, 637, 639, 641, 643, 645, 647, 649, 651, 653, 655, 657, 659, 661, 663, 665, 667, 669, 671, 673, 675, 677, 679, 681, 683, 685, 687, 689, 691, 693, 695, 697, 699, 701, 703, 705, 707, 709, 711, 713, 715, 717, 719, 721, 723, 725, 727, 729, 731, 733, 735, 737, 739, 741, 743, 745, 747, 749, 751, 753, 755, 757, 759, 761, 763, 765, 767, 769, 771, 773, 775, 777, 779, 781, 783, 785, 787, 789, 791, 793, 795, 797, 799, 801, 803, 805, 807, 809, 811, 813, 815, 817, 819, 821, 823, 825, 827, 829, 831, 833, 835, 837, 839, 841, 843, 845, 847, 849, 851, 853, 855, 857, 859, 861, 863, 865, 867, 869, 871, 873, 875, 877, 879, 881, 883, 885, 887, 889, 891, 893, 895, 897, 899, 901, 903, 905, 907, 909, 911, 913, 915, 917, 919, 921, 923, 925, 927, 929, 931, 933, 935, 937, 939, 941, 943, 945, 947, 949, 951, 953, 955, 957, 959, 961, 963, 965, 967, 969, 971, 973, 975, 977, 979, 981, 983, 985, 987, 989, 991, 993, 995, 997, 999, 1001, 1003, 1005, 1007, 1009, 1011, 1013, 1015, 1017, 1019, 1021, 1023, 1025, 1027, 1029, 1031, 1033, 1035, 1037, 1039, 1041, 1043, 1045, 1047, 1049, 1051, 1053, 1055, 1057, 1059, 1061, 1063, 1065, 1067, 1069, 1071, 1073, 1075, 1077, 1079, 1081, 1083, 1085, 1087, 1089, 1091, 1093, 1095, 1097, 1099, 1101, 1103, 1105, 1107, 1109, 1111, 1113, 1115, 1117, 1119, 1121, 1123, 1125, 1127, 1129, 1131, 1133, 1135, 1137, 1139, 1141, 1143, 1145, 1147, 1149, 1151, 1153, 1155, 1157, 1159, 1161, 1163, 1165, 1167, 1169, 1171, 1173, 1175, 1177, 1179, 1181, 1183, 1185, 1187, 1189, 1191, 1193, 1195, 1197, 1199, 1201, 1203, 1205, 1207, 1209, 1211, 1213, 1215, 1217, 1219, 1221, 1223, 1225, 1227, 1229, 1231, 1233, 1235, 1237, 1239, 1241, 1243, 1245, 1247, 1249, 1251, 1253, 1255, 1257, 1259, 1261, 1263, 1265, 1267, 1269, 1271, 1273, 1275, 1277, 1279, 1281, 1283, 1285, 1287, 1289, 1291, 1293, 1295, 1297, 1299, 1301, 1303, 1305, 1307, 1309, 1311, 1313, 1315, 1317, 1319, 1321, 1323, 1325, 1327, 1329, 1331, 1333, 1335, 1337, 1339, 1341, 1343, 1345, 1347, 1349, 1351, 1353, 1355, 1357, 1359, 1361, 1363, 1365, 1367, 1369, 1371, 1373, 1375, 1377, 1379, 1381, 1383, 1385, 1387, 1389, 1391, 1393, 1395, 1397, 1399, 1401, 1403, 1405, 1407, 1409, 1411, 1413, 1415, 1417, 1419, 1421, 1423, 1425, 1427, 1429, 1431, 1433, 1435, 1437, 1439, 1441, 1443, 1445, 1447, 1449, 1451, 1453, 1455, 1457, 1459, 1461, 1463, 1465, 1467, 1469, 1471, 1473, 1475, 1477, 1479, 1481, 1483, 1485, 1487, 1489, 1491, 1493, 1495, 1497, 1499, 1501, 1503, 1505, 1507, 1509, 15

DODSON IS DEAD OF STAB WOUND

Oscar Dewberry, Negro Who Cut Him, Is in the Tower.

Horace Dodson, the 15-year-old youth who was stabbed on Saturday night about a month ago by a negro at the corner of Decatur and Pratt streets, died yesterday at 1 o'clock at his residence, 136 Fulton street.

The negro accused of the stabbing, Oscar Dewberry, aged 24, has been charged with murder and removed to the Tower. Detectives Bullard and Doyal, who arrested him a few minutes following the affair, have secured several eye-witnesses, who allege they saw Dewberry inflict the wound that resulted in Dodson's death.

The stabbing occurred on Saturday night about four weeks ago, when young Dodson, it was alleged, was attacked by Dewberry without the slightest provocation. Attempting to defend himself, eye-witnesses stated, the white youth received a knife thrust in the back, just above the hips. Dewberry ran down Decatur street in the direction of the cotton mill, and was chased by Detectives Bullard and Doyal who had witnessed the affray from the platform of a passing trolley car. He was caught a few yards from the scene of the fight.

Dodson's body has been removed to Poole's chapel, and the funeral arrangements will be made later.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Dodson, and two brothers and two sisters, W. N. Dodson, J. T. Dodson, Miss Effie Dodson and Mrs. W. H. Jernigan.

TAX RETURNS BILL IS PUT ON TABLE

Nearly Two Hours Spent in Consideration of the Measure.

The bill of Senator Harris, of the thirty-eighth district, providing for state and county boards of tax returns and valuations, providing the powers and duties of such boards, providing for just and adequate returns of property and for equitable valuation thereof, was tabled by an almost unanimous vote in the senate Thursday morning.

The discussion of the bill lasted for nearly two hours, Senator Sheppard leading the fight against it, declaring such a bill to be unfair to the people of Georgia and insisting that its passage would mean an annual expenditure of $50,000 to the state.

Senator Harris replied that he was mistaken in his estimate of the annual cost, but that even if it were to mean that much of an expenditure to the state, the now uncollected taxes of the state which would be collected if his bill was passed would make up this deficit threefold.

"There are men in every county who are stingy and do not pay their just share of taxes," he continued. "The present system of taxation is a 'pass-around-the-hat-and-pay-what-you-please' method, a rich man paying the same taxes as his poor neighbor."

Senator Williams opposed the bill on the ground that the present system of taxation is a good and just one. Senator Sheppard moved that the bill be indefinitely tabled.

This motion was opposed by Senator Crawford, who spoke vehemently against its tabling, declaring that it was only fair and right to consider the bill then and there, and to either kill the bill or pass it. Senators Dickerson and Graham spoke in favor of the passage of the bill, and Senator Shaw spoke against its passage.

Senator Blalock, of the twenty-sixth, declared the great danger of the bill was that the assessors would raise the tax instead of lowering it. Here a motion of Senator Blalock to table the bill was presented, and the senate passed it by a sixty-five vote.

The senate went into executive session at 11:45, and confirmed the appointments sent up by Governor Brown yesterday. After the executive session the senate heard the second readings of a number of bills and passed one of Senator Morris providing a board of appraisers for the canals and waterworks of Augusta.

Senator Blalock, of the twenty-sixth, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, was appointed to the committee on agriculture upon the request of practically every member of the committee.

HON. H. H. PERRY Will address the voters on "Woodrow Wilson and Democracy" Friday evening, 8 o'clock, at Cable Hall. Everybody invited.

STATE DEPARTMENTS ASK FOR MORE THAN $300,000

The committee on appropriations of the house is working overtime in an effort to learn the needs of all the state departments. Up to the present time more than $300,000 has been asked for, and every day the demands on the treasury become larger.

The committee heard from the Old Soldiers' home yesterday afternoon. Thirty thousand dollars is needed to take care of the institution. In addition to $30,000 the committee has been asked for $10,000 to send the old soldiers to the reunion of the blue and gray at Gettysburg, in 1913.

The committee took up the bill asking for an appropriation to make up the deficiency of $7,500 in the military fund, also the request for $3,000 for a riot fund.

The Georgia state tuberculosis sanatorium wants $10,000 for five additional houses.

The committee will hold meetings almost every day until the general appropriation bill is made up.

M'NAUGHTON MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL IS DENIED

In a decision handed down yesterday the supreme court denied the extraordinary motion for a new trial filed by attorneys for Mr. W. J. McNaughton, sentenced to death for the murder of Fred Flanders in Emanuel county.

The case has been fought through all the courts, having gone to the supreme court of the United States on technicalities. It came to the Georgia supreme court the second time on an extraordinary motion for a new trial.

McNaughton is now held in the jail of Chatham county and will probably be arraigned soon before the trial judge of Emanuel superior court to be resentenced. Unless clemency is secured at the hands of the prison commission and the governor the condemned man must pay the penalty for his crime.

JONATHAN HARALSON SUMMONED BY DEATH

Montgomery, Ala., July 11.—Hon. Jonathan Haralson, aged 82, for sixteen years associate justice of the supreme court of Alabama, died here at 10 o'clock this morning. He was one of the most distinguished jurists of Alabama. The interment will be in Selma, Friday.

He was an academic graduate from the University of Alabama and a law graduate from the University of Louisiana. He practiced law in Selma, Ala., until he was elevated to the local bench in 1876.

Judge Haralson had been a trustee of Howard college and the Alabama Polytechnic institute of this state. He was president of the Alabama Baptist convention from 1874 to 1891, and was president of the Southern Baptist convention from 1887 to 1898. He was twice married.

Rates Held Discriminatory.

Washington, July 11.—It was held today by the interstate commerce commission that the practice of railroads operating south of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi rivers, of making their freight rates from the south to New Albany, Ind., on a basis higher than to Louisville, Ky., was discriminatory and must be discontinued. The carriers were ordered to establish by September 1 rates to New Albany which would be substantially the same as the rates to Louisville.

TENNESSEE GIRL WORKS IN SUMMER TO GO TO COLLEGE

Miss STELLA WILLIAMS

The men who work their way through college are no longer a novelty and their ambitious determination is finding a growing applause even among their fellow students.

But girls who pay their own way to secure the higher education are scarce enough to be remarkable, and a very pretty and a very determined one has been spending the past several days in Atlanta, her visit to further her education at Tulane university, where she has completed already her freshman year.

Miss Stella Katherine Williams comes of a well-known family in Tennessee—her home is Bristol, and she is regarded by the Curtis Publishing Company as one of the most successful agents they have.

She is traveling this summer for their publications, and she averages $500 a month in subscription to The Ladies' Home Journal, Saturday Evening Post and the "Country Gentleman."

She has done a splendid business in Atlanta, and her best introduction to the people with whom she came in contact was not alone that she is beautiful, although she is winsomely so, with the bluest and deepest eyes and a rose leaf complexion, but that she is so business-like and direct in the gentlest but most effectively feminine way.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams, and her brother, Clarence Williams, is traveling with her in the interest of the same publishing house, and for the same purpose—to make the money for his own college education.

Miss Williams was one of the most popular members last year of the freshman class, H. Sophie Newcomb college, of Tulane university of Louisiana, and the admiration her purpose occasioned in Atlanta will follow her into the next summer year.

Miss Williams is now in Macon.

KINDERGARTEN BILL IS REPORTED FAVORABLY

"Give us free kindergartens." The above was the plea made by men and women prominent in the industrial as well as the educational progress of Georgia, before the committee on education, yesterday afternoon.

The committee issued an invitation to those interested in the bill to discuss free kindergartens as part of the common school system throughout the state to appear and discuss the matter. Among those who availed themselves of the opportunity of being their approval of the bill were Mrs. E. B. Smith, of Atlanta, representing several organizations; Mrs. Mary McLenon, of the W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Edward T. Brown, Gunby Gordon, of Columbus; Miss Carroll P. Oppenheim, of the University of Georgia; kindergarten department; Miss Edwina Wood, of Columbus; George A. Baldwin, ex-governor Northern; Gertrude Cohen and Mrs. John S. Lacey, of Landauer; Miss Mary Baldwin, Mrs. Carl Carson and Mrs. R. C. Little.

The speakers all pointed out to the committee that Georgia was far behind many of the states in the union in kindergarten work, and urged that the bill be passed.

The bill provides for kindergartens for children of not less than 4 years, and also provides that the teachers shall have at least two years training in kindergarten work.

The bill will report the bill favorably to the house.

HIGHER LICENSE WOULD RAISE PRICE OF "SMOKES"

"The price of cigarettes and tobacco will advance if the legislature increases the tax on dealers," declared the representative of one of the tobacco interests as he emerged from the meeting of the committee of ways and means, yesterday afternoon.

The committee heard a spirited discussion on both sides of the question as to whether the state should bolster up its revenue by increasing the tax of dealers in cigarettes, cigars and tobacco houses and agents sent here by larger concerns of the north and east just as soon as the news of the introduction of the bill was spread.

The committee decided that the increase was too great, that it would work a hardship on some of the smaller dealers, and after weighing the question decided to report the bill back to the house with the recommendation that it pass with the amendment making the tax $50.

One tobacco representative said that the bill would force some of the small dealers out of business and expressed the belief that it would have the effect of increasing the price on smokers' articles.

EDUCATORS INTERESTED IN PASSAGE OF THIS BILL

The teachers of the state will be benefited if the bill framed by Chairman C. R. Ashley, of the ways and means committee, to raise $900,000 by imposing a tax of one mill on all taxable property in the state for 1913 only, for the purpose of paying the state debt to the school teachers, becomes a law.

The bill is one of the most important before the house, and according to Chairman Ashley is one of the most effective means of raising the money to help the teachers. The bill proposes to levy the tax only for the year 1913.

The bill has the endorsement of a goodly number of the members of the house and senate, and Chairman Ashley is confident that it will pass. The ways and means committee will have the bill up for consideration some time this week, and expects no opposition.

Freight Rate Decision.

Washington, July 11.—The interstate commerce commission held today that Morristown, Tenn., points intermediate between Bristol, Va.-Tenn. and Knoxville, Tenn., were entitled to rates from New York city, and related eastern points not higher than the rates contemporaneously in effect from those points to Knoxville.

Rome, Ga., July 11.—(Special.)—The Manufacturer and Merchants' Association of Floyd county will give its annual barbecue on July 18, and prominent people from many parts of the country will be invited to attend. The barbecue this year is in compliment to the Mobile Basin Association.

The entire Georgia legislature will be invited to come up and attend the big feast, and a committee from the association will go to Atlanta Saturday to extend the invitation.

Many of the state's lawmakers do not know that the Coosa is not only a navigable stream, but one of the most important rivers in the country, and for this reason the solons will be invited here to get in closer touch with the stream and with Rome in general.

The committee will go to Atlanta and will not take "no" from the members of the legislature.

LYONS-BYRD-STILL FIGHT WILL BE PROBED

The state senate, through a committee, will make an investigation of the fight between Tom Lyons, secretary of the Byrd Printing company, and Luther Still, president of the Typographical union, in the senate chamber, Wednesday afternoon.

The investigating committee named by President Sloan is composed of Senators Sheppard, Mayson, Crawford and Douglas.

The committee held a brief session Thursday afternoon, but decided to continue the investigation until such time as all the witnesses to the affray can be summoned to give testimony.

Senator Sheppard, who offered the resolution in the senate calling for an investigation of the fistfight, stated that he learned that the men clashed in the senate chamber and that one of them used a pair of brass knuckles.

When the committee gets started on the investigation it will have a stenographer on hand to take the testimony.

One of the members of the committee stated yesterday afternoon that the committee would seek to learn who started the trouble, and would probably recommend that the offending party be denied the courtesy of the senate chamber.

BILL TO AID WIDOW OF EX-GOVERNOR Candler

A bill proposing a constitutional amendment which will serve as a means by which the legislature can provide a pension of $50 a month for the widows of ex-governors of Georgia who served in the civil war will be introduced in the house by Representative Iverson Lord, of Washington.

A similar measure was called up for passage yesterday, but an error in the technical construction caused its defeat by postponement. The defeated bill was called up by Representative Brannon, of Coweta, and was opposed by Representative Joe Hill Hall on the ground that if the bill was passed it would be unconstitutional.

According to Representative Lord, the bill was framed with a view of aiding the widow of ex-governor Candler, who is still living in Atlanta. He said that Mrs. Candler was conducting a boarding house and was entitled to relief from the state. The pension committee has recommended a bill such as will relieve widows of ex-governors.

Representative Hall said that he would favor the passage of a bill providing for a constitutional amendment.

tee stated yesterday afternoon that the committee would seek to learn who started the trouble, and would probably recommend that the offending party be denied the courtesy of the senate chamber.

COL. R. W. SIMPSON DIES IN ATLANTA

Famous Carolinian Who Organized "Red Shirt Brigade" Passes Away.

Colonel Richard W. Simpson, of South Carolina, originator of the famous Red Shirt Brigade, which played as prominent a part in the latter days of reconstruction as the Ku-Klux did immediately after the war, died yesterday at a private sanitarium in this city, after several months of illness. He was 72 years old.

Colonel Simpson came of a family which has been prominent in South Carolina for generations. He studied law and was practicing his profession when the war broke out and he left to take a leading part in the hostilities. Returning to his home in historic old Pendleton he became a foremost figure in the redemption of the state from the carpet-baggers and negroes.

It was prior to the election of Wade Hampton as governor in 1874, the election which broke the backbone of the "scalawags" and put the lawful citizens again in power, that he originated the famous "Red Shirt" idea. It was planned to parade in every section of the state on the night preceding the election to endeavor to secure a decent election and a fair vote at the polls, where before there had been only fraud, violence and corruption. "We ought to have a uniform," said Colonel Simpson, who was a member of the legislature.

"It ought to be something showy and something cheap, so we can all buy it," said a friend.

"How about red flannel shirts?" asked Mr. Simpson, and the idea was adopted with unbounded enthusiasm. The result of his idea was when Wade Hampton swept the state, defeated a notorious thief for the governorship who was not even a resident of the state, and began the era of redemption.

"Troubles were not over, however, and in the legislature Colonel Simpson found a man's work cut out for him. The negroes and 'scalawags' took possession of the revered old statehouse, refused to leave, and it had to be taken by force. Colonel Simpson was one of four men who rushed the stairs and broke open the door of the hall of representatives. They were camped there several days, unable to leave, because if their seats were vacated, the negroes, backed by union troops, would have usurped them.

After the war, Colonel Simpson returned to the practice of law and became widely known. He had offices in Anderson, S. C., and lived at Pendleton, eighteen miles away. When Clemson college was founded he became the first president of the board of trustees, a position he held for more than twenty years.

Colonel Simpson is survived by eight children, R. W. Simpson, Jr., of Richmond, Va.; J. S. Simpson of Charlotte, N. C.; T. S. Simpson of Troy, S. C.; Mrs. W. W. Watkins, Mrs. Paul Sloan of Pendleton, S. C.; Mrs. A. G. Holmes, Mrs. F. M. Martin, Mrs. W. W. Kline, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Williams of Knoxville, Tenn. The funeral was taken to Pendleton Thursday for burial and interment.

TEN EYCK BROWN TO DRAW PLANS FOR THE CHAMBER

The contract for remodeling the old Y. M. C. A. building into a modern, up-to-date home for the chamber of commerce has been awarded to A. Ten Eyck Brown, the well-known architect, in competition with numerous others. He has been instructed to prepare the working drawings at once so that work can go ahead at the first of the year.

Three stories are to be added to the prior street elevation of the present building, making seven stories in all, while there will be two stories added to the Auburn avenue side. Entrance will be on Pryor street by means of a handsome lobby leading to stairway and elevator.

The entire second floor is to be given over to the chamber, and will be everything that is convenient and comfortable. There is also to be an auditorium seating 800 people, where meetings can be held. The remainder of the building will be divided into offices, many of which are already rented.

Mr. Brown achieved another distinction this week when his plans for the new $175,000 courthouse at Athens were accepted after a strenuous anonymous competition. A feature of the building will be the jail on the top floor. Two other Atlanta firms, Eckman & Adams and Beverly S. King, were awarded the second and third prizes, respectively, of $300 each.

"RAINBOW CHASING" IS BEGUN BY HILLES

Washington, July 11.—Chairman Hilles, of the national committee, expressed the belief here this afternoon that republican chances of winning in four southern states this year are good. He indicated Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Maryland.

These states will comprise one of the four strategic divisions of the republican battle-front. Senator Newell Sanders, of Tennessee, will be in charge of the division.

HOW FARMERS CAN SAVE ON PURCHASES OF SEED

OVER in Orangeburg county, South Carolina, on the east side of the Edisto river, there is a strip of country known many years back as Dutch Fork.

A large creek empties into the Edisto just south of this strip of land, hence the name Fork. Early in the history of old Orangeburg district, as it was formerly, a colony of Dutch farmers came over from Holland and settled in this "Fork." There were then, and are today, among the descendants of these sturdy farmers, many things that differentiated them from their neighbors.

I have many friends some thirty years back, visited the Fork. I was personally acquainted with every farmer who lived there. Since then there have been many changes—I am therefore writing about conditions as they were thirty years ago. I am sure, though, that the Funderbunks, Zeiglers, Rumph-smunks (this name has been Americanized) and Buzzards and other Dutch names are to be found over there yet.

Always Have Vegetables.
These colonists brought with them from Holland vegetable and fruit seeds of every kind, and today, I think, they are doing what they were doing thirty years ago, when I knew them, raising vegetables and farm products from seeds that their ancestors originally brought from Holland with them. The Smoak winter cabbage and a field pea are two that I now remember. These people never fail to have vegetables in their gardens during the entire year. They save and cure all the seed—or nearly all—that they plant. How many thousands of dollars go north out of the south each year for seeds, think you? How many of these dollars could be kept at home, if farmers all over the south would do as did the children of the Dutch colonists?

Well, let's look into this seed business a little deeper than you have ever gone. The south is blessed with a climate that is just what to climate on earth in which to grow many farm and garden products that are seldom planted. Many of the vegetable and farm seeds that you buy at the rate of $15 to $20 a bushel at retail are grown in the south, sent to the north, put up in beautiful packages and sold back to the gardeners and farmers in the south. I know full well that there are some seeds, like rye seeds, that cannot be depended upon to produce a good crop if raised in the south, but plant rye seed that are gathered here in the north and it will produce good rye. No farmer or gardener in the south should be dependent on the north for nine-tenths of the seeds that he plants.

Seeds From the North.
Again, go into almost any grocery, drug and other stores and you will find seeds of all kinds put up in nice packages. These seeds are shipped south from the north. They are all sold on commission, the unsold packages are returned to the shipper at the end of the season. The packages that are shop-worn are emptied, cleaned with a few fresh seeds, and shipped back to the farmer. Some of these packages often contain several kinds of vegetable seeds, bought once a package of collard seeds that contained turnip, cabbage and collard seeds.

I am sure that I am writing to folks that have had the same experience. You cannot depend on such seeds. They bring to you disappointment, and worse, the loss of time that cannot be regained.

This is, farmers of the south think, a very small matter. They forget that this item of purchasing seeds every spring is only one of the many small things that they fail to think of, which together cause millions of dollars to drift northward out of the south each year.

When, oh, when, will the day come in which we will see our southern farmers paying more attention to the small things of the farm? We are told here in Atlanta that a $50,000 sky-scraper was built by gathering and taking care of the nickels.

YOUR UNCLE DUDLEY.

Visited Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert West of Montgomery, Ala., made a flying visit to Atlanta last week. They visited Brer-cliff, the Candler poultry farm, Belmont farm and Kimballville. They met a number of their friends, who, of course, were glad to see them. Mrs. West owns the Single Comb White Leghorn poultry farm, near Montgomery, Ala. Attached to a gold chain that dangled from her neck was the gold medal that her pen of White Leghorns won at the Southern International show, December, 1911. Mrs. West is confident that she has birds that will go beyond this at the international next December.

COTTONMEN AT CAPITOL TODAY

W. P. Yeary, of Texas, Among the First to Arrive Here.

Representatives of governors of a number of southern states will assemble in the senate chamber at the capitol this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the cotton situation.

Some time ago George Dole, of Macon, head of the Southern Cotton Corporation, requested Governor Brown to invite the governors of the southern states or their representatives, to meet at Atlanta July 12 to consider plans for marketing the cotton crop with a view to obtaining better prices.

Among the first arrivals in Atlanta to attend the conference was W. P. Yeary, president of the cotton growers of Texas. He arrived here yesterday afternoon, and said that he expected a number of other prominent Texans to attend.

Governor Mann, of Virginia, will not attend the conference. He has informed the conference that he will send Commissioner of Agriculture Cruse to represent him.

Governor O'Neal, of Alabama, will be represented at the conference by Dan Hennessy, commissioner of agriculture, and Rubin F. Cobb and W. B. Nesbit, of Birmingham.

It is expected that there will be more than 100 representatives from various counties in Georgia in attendance at the conference.

"LID" FOR WASHINGTON DEMANDED BY HOWARD

By John Corrigan, Jr.
Washington, July 11.—(Special.)—Representative William Schley Howard, of Georgia, has introduced a bill to promote Sabbath observance at the national capital and to correct the great and, he believes, growing evil of allowing all kinds of work not of necessity or of charity to be conducted on that day.

Construction work on buildings is carried on to an amazing extent without interference, he says, and some butcher shops, clothing stores and bakeries do a thriving business.

"The sale of drugs, newspapers, ice, cigars and soft drinks might continue under the provisions of my bill," said Mr. Howard. "There is no reason whatever, however, that a contractor should be permitted to employ a squad of workmen on a building on the Sabbath. If he is behind on his contract, that is the fault of the contractor and this should not be accepted as an excuse for laboring on the Sabbath."

"I find there is no law directly bearing upon the subject and I urge the immediate consideration of my bill. I have no doubt of its ultimate passage."

The Howard bill, which is destined to meet with both strong support and bitter opposition, probably will be referred to the house committee on judiciary as it relates to an amendment of the district code.

Under the provisions of the bill Mr. Howard contemplates that drug stores, news stands and ice distributing plants, as well as newspaper offices, may remain open. Street cars and public conveyances would also be excepted. The bill, however, if enacted into law, would have the effect of closing all clothing and grocery stores, barber shops and picture galleries, theaters and photograph galleries. It would also prevent work on any building or public improvement project.

Little Items of Georgia Cities

Hotel Patterson to Open.
Valdosta, Ga., July 11.—(Special.)—Valdosta's new hotel, the Hotel Patterson, will be thrown open to the public on the 15th inst. The furnishings, which are of the best class, are being installed rapidly and the finishing touches to the building are being pushed. Manager William Ford, of Jacksonville, who has leased the property for a number of years, will devote much of his personal time to the hotel and is determined to have it open by the 15th of this month, even if some minor details are not completely finished by then. The house is one of the neatest and most comfortable of the kind in the state. Its kitchen and dining room equipment is of the most modern character and so far as quality goes is not excelled by that of any hotel in the country. The building is of pressed brick, four stories with balconies on the second and third floors. It is now under the management of Mr. Ford, who has already signed a contract for the lease of the additional floors.

Get Good Yield of Oats.

Perry, Ga., July 11.—(Special.)—W. E. Ingram and W. S. Wright, two of Houston's most progressive farmers, living about four miles north of town on the national highway, have threshed their oat crops of splendid yields. W. E. Ingram's oats yielded 85 bushels per acre and W. S. Wright's 65 bushels per acre. The farms of these two gentlemen are now giving 600 bushels of oats per acre, but they have yielded 10 bushels per acre, but under the progressive methods employed runs for the last year or so up to their high state of cultivation.

Hon. A. H. Foster Ill.
Covington, Ga., July 11.—(Special.)—Hon. A. H. Foster, Newton's representative in the legislature, is ill with fever at his home here. A year ago Mr. Foster was county school commissioner of Newton county and is one of the best known educators in Georgia. As a member of the legislature he has been unusually active and at present is a candidate for this county for the state senate.

The people will watch his recovery with great interest.

Sparks Wins.
Nashville, Ga., July 11.—(Special.)—The Nashville 11 club met in a game on the local diamond. Both clubs played a poor fielding game, but the Sparks put an end to the tie in the fifth inning. The score stood 10 to 9 in favor of Sparks. Batteries, Sparks, Lovett and Summerlin; Nashville, Knight and Hill. Empire, Gene Lovett.

CHANGE MEDICAL LAWS STATE DOCTORS URGE

Some radical changes in the state medical laws, which they say have been in force something like twenty years, and are obsolete for existent conditions, will be urged by the doctors of the state in a united endeavor to put through the legislature a bill making more stringent the requirements for entrance into the medical profession.

At a meeting with Dr. W. S. Elkin at the Georgian Terrace last night, a group of prominent doctors considered the proposed bill, and while no action was taken by them, it is understood that they approve of its provisions and will urge its passage. It is hoped to present it to the legislature the early part of next week.

The chief changes will affect the educational requirements for practicing physicians, which the profession of the state at large, both of the eclectic and regular medical schools, thinks are now too lax. A four years' course in college, instead of three years, is the principal change.
